Over a decade ago, Jonathan Kozol wrote a book about the children in the Mott Haven neighborhood of the South Bronx (Ordinary Resurrections). Amidst one of the poorest, most segregated, most desperate places in our nation, Kozol wrote about the commonplace and unnoticed ways that people rise above their loneliness and fear.

Author Jonathan Kozol will discuss his new book "The Shame of the Nation: The Restoration of Apartheid Schooling in America." Kozol visited 60 schools in 11 states over a 7-year period and found, despite the promise of Brown v. Board of Education, many schools serving black and Hispanic children are spiraling backward to the pre-Brown era.
